Career History

French Linguist- The Big Word/ New Century

February/ Present 2016

- Deployed to Africa as a linguist to support Special Operations Command Africa, a Department of Defence/ US ARMY project. In Cameroon (February- April) I trained and translated the Battalion Intervention Rapid, B.I.R, the country's Special Forces/ Anti Terrorism Unit. The course was called Geospatial Intelligence Course, focusing on satellite and UAV imagery to gain intelligence to aid the commanders make plans on future operations against Boko Haram who were fighting on the north border of Cameroon.
- In Tunisia (May- June) I trained and translated the Military Intelligence Company (MICO) in all aspects of Human Intelligence and the Special Forces Group in Surveillance and Reconnaissance. This was to aid them combat ISIS terrorist cells in the mountainous regions of Tunisia, which proved vital during recent successful operations.

Security Operator

August 2015- December 2015

- I was a security manager in charge of a minimum of 15 English reps in a French ski resort (Les Deux Alpes and Les Arcs) during the 2015/16 ski season dealing with students from different universities throughout the country during a skiing festival. The festival had many events within the resort as well as up in the mountain (après-ski) where the students were encouraged to attend. My team dealt with problematic, emergency issues and my liaising/ translating with the French emergency services enhanced the success of the festival. I have been asked to come back for the 2016/ 17 season.

- Specially selected security driver to the Chairman of the International Rugby Board during the Rugby World Cup 2015 in London. I was meticulous, prudent and always had the best and most appropriate routes primary and secondary planned in advance. I drove him and his family to meetings in London and throughout the country, taking him to the games as well as official meetings at Buckingham Palace. My fluency in French helped, as the first language of my client was French.
- My role as a Protective Security Detail Team Member involved various tasks including delivering residential security to members of a Royal Family, booking staff/ visitors in and out of the grounds together with protecting the 75-acre estate. Other tasks I have been involved in are red carpet events where I had to protect celebrities from eager members of the public and at an international airport protecting airline staff from abusive passengers. I have also offered my services on asset protection tasks to ITV studios for their morning shows including Good Morning Britain, Lorraine, This Morning and Loose Women.

Team Leader- 4th Battalion The Rifles

June 2006- October 2015

- During my 9 year exemplary service in HM Forces I have been given many responsibility roles right from the start as an Armoured Fighting Vehicle (AFV) driver in Iraq through to controlling fighter jets/ helicopters and UAVs as a Forward Air Controller (FAC) in a combat role in Afghanistan.
- Supported a 120 man strong company during counter insurgency operations as a member of a Fire Support Team delivering the air and ground observation and strike capability mobile as well as static locations providing force protection.
- As a Mortar advisor I worked closely with the Afghan soldiers on a daily basis, which resulted in them deploying their Mortars on an ANA successfully led mission in Sangin. I was awarded a commendation for my actions.
- In charge of camp security as the Guard Commander. One of the roles was to control access of military personnel as well as civilian contractors, supervising the Riflemen searching personnel and their vehicles during the heightened threat level.

Military Operational Tours

- Afghanistan- Operation Herrick 18 (2013), FAC/ Mortar Advisor
- Kenya- BATUK (2011), Mortar Fire Controller
- Falkland Islands- FIRIC (2010), Mortar Fire Controller
- Afghanistan- Operation Herrick 10 (2009), Grenade Machine Gunner, Fire Support Group
- Iraq- Operation Telic 10 (2007), AFV driver in a rifle company

Education & Qualifications

- 3 A'Levels in French, Travel & Tourism and Physical Education at The Anglo European School, Ingatestone 2001- 2003
- PDM Level 2 Maths & English Functional Skills (Edexcel)
- BCS Level 2 ECDL, IT User Skills (QCF)
- JS-US007 Anti-terrorism Awareness Training
