Objective

Using my extensive background, training, and experience in the area of Military Security to obtain a career involving a civilian law enforcement related field.

Personal Statement

Ambitious, punctual, hard-working individual that enjoys working and contributing as a member of a team, but who can also thrive in a single-contributor environment. I work well with others and can function effectively in a wide range of situations — from those requiring close supervision to those requiring little to none. I am self-motivated, able to handle changing priorities, enjoy learning new tasks and processes, always work safely, and have past supervisory experience.
