Personal Description

My professional accomplishments include 15 years of HSSE project management and consultancy in Europe, the Middle East and Africa coupled with a degree from the University of Leeds UK “safety and security management” and a MBA degree in “general management” from Krems University AUT. Furthermore I am currently undergoing a PhD program in international economic relations and management. Prior to my time in the private sector I have spent 5 years in a military reconnaissance unit with the Austrian parachute battalion. My strengths include team and relationship building, problem solving and operating in new and challenging environments.
